All EtechGlobal sites consist of a basic shell with dynamic include files inserted into various areas.

These include files consist of the following:

Base_Nav

This is a dynamic navigation menu that is 140 pixels wide and contains your main navigation buttons. For this area only an on and off image are needed, however if you choose to create sections (see www.dakotadigital.com) we will need the top and bottom images to complete the sections.

Top_Nav

This is only necessary for sites that use the shopping cart. It can contain simple text links or buttons. If using buttons we will once again need a blank on/off version.

Search

A search field may be added to the site or we can just have a search button in the navigation menu.

Main_Includes

This is the main content area of the site. It is a 605 (minimum) pixel wide area that must always have a white background.

Footer

There is a dynamic text link footer that is 600 pixels wide that needs to be included somewhere at the bottom of the page, either below the main content area or below the site layout.

Etech Logo

This logo is on every EtechGlobal site. Usually we place it at the bottom of the navigation menu to the left side of the Footer area.

Each site is a minimum 765 pixels wide. Keep in mind that this dimension does not include any blank space/margin area on either side, so the banners and buttons will meet the very edge of the site and touch the background, should you use one. Also if a background image will be used, we will need that. It can be tiled or static.
